Theft and pickpockets in Barcelona

As in any other city, you should look out for pickpockets. Always keep your belongings on you and don't get distracted if you pause for a moment to admire Barcelona's architecture. You should take special care with your luggage, suitcase, camera, purse and wallet, which are the main targets of thieves and pickpockets. You should also stay alert when eating in a restaurant, drinking in a bar or sitting on a terrace.

Never carry with you more than you actually need when out and about in the city. If you have valuables and your room isn't ready upon your arrival, always leave them in the safe (the hotel will have them if you require them). You should also be aware that some robberies have been reported in waiting areas and hotel lounges. Thefts have occurred close to our MSF office; please remember that it isn't the safest neighbourhood in Barcelona.
